The only thing she needed
Was her very next breath
Took what she could carry
And just left
Tried to find herself in the familiar
Pieces that were left

One piece at a time
One minute at a time
A moment at a time
And soon you'll be fine

Had to get back to the basics of her life
To stop pretending everything's alright

One piece at a time
One minute at a time
A moment at a time

But never the same
It's just different now
You'll move through the pain

You'll be fine
